IRISHMEN AND IRISHWOMEN: In the name of God and of the dead generations from which she receives her old tradition of nationhood, Ireland, through us summons her children to her flag and strikes for her freedom.

Having organized and trained her sons through her secret revolutionary organizations, the Irish Republican Brotherhood, and through her open military organizations, the Irish Volunteers and the Irish Citizen Army, having patiently prepared her discipline, training, resources and right to self-government, revolution she now asserts that movement, and supported by her exiled children in America and by gallant allies in Europe, but relying in the first on her own strength, she strikes for her cause of freedom.

We declare the right of the people of Ireland to the ownership of Ireland, and to the unfettered control of Irish destinies, to be sovereign and indefeasible. The long usurpation of that right by a foreign people and their government has extorted the rich soil of Ireland and has despoiled her of her natural resources. The Irish people, and every generation of Irish people have asserted their right to national freedom and sovereignty; six times during the past three hundred years they have asserted it in armed rebellion, and have been suppressed by alien governments and alien peoples of the world; we hereby proclaim the Irish Republic as a Sovereign Independent State, and we pledge our lives and the lives of our comrades-in-arms to the cause of freedom, of its welfare and of its rehabilitation among the nations.

Irishmen and Irishwoman: The Republic guarantees religious and civil liberty, equal rights and equal opportunity to all its citizens and declares its resolve to pursue the happiness and prosperity of the whole nation and of all its parts, cherishing all the children of the nation equally, and abhoring the poverty,积弊, and subjection of those among its citizens, who have divided a minority from the majority in the past.

Until our arms have brought the opportune moment for the establishment of a permanent government of Ireland, the Provisional Government, which will be elected by the suffrages of all her men and women, the Provisional Government, hereby constituted, will administer the civil and military affairs of the Republic in trust for the people.

We place the cause of the Irish Republic under the protection of the Most High God. Whose blessing we invoke upon our arms, and we pray that no one who serves that cause will dis honour it by cowardice, inhumanity, or rapine. In this supreme hour the Irish people present, by its valour and discipline, and the heroism of its children to sacrifice themselves for the common cause, prove itself worthy of the august destiny to which it is called.

Signed on Behalf of the Provisional Government,
THOMAS J. CLARKE,
SEAN Mac DIARMADA, THOMAS MacDONAGH,
P. H. PEARSE, EAMONN CEANNAT,
JAMES CONNOLLY, JOSEPH PLUNKETT.
